

To Whom It May Concern:

It is my pleasure to strongly recommend Jonathon Moore for this position.

I am Shamsh Hadi, the CEO of ZorroSign, Inc. Early on, our startup developed a rule to help us through the recruitment process: only hire rock stars. Jonathon Moore was handpicked for his ambition, positivity, and passion for excellence.

During his time at the company, Jonathon demonstrated his wide scope of technical talent. Every project he worked on was diligently completed and always exceeded expectations. We found that his excellence did not stop at his own work, as he made time to support his colleagues in any way he could. Jonathon's ability to put a smile on the team's face at any moment while maintaining the highest standards in his work made him a key employee in the company.

Jonathon showcased many technical skills during his internship at ZorroSign, and the following are the key technical areas that he used to work.

1. Distributed event-driven microservices
2. Document automation using Machine learning and Artificial Intelligence

This letter can only capture a snapshot of Jonathon's impressive skillset. If you need more information, please do not hesitate to email me at shamsh@zorrosign.com. I am happy to talk more about this dynamic young man.

Sincerely,
